

INSURANCE PROVIDERS

Optum

New York: CareMount & ProHEALTH

New Jersey: Riverside

Connecticut: Riverside

Lemonaid

None, does not take insurance

TwentyEight

“Yes, we accept most insurance policies (including Medicaid) to cover your medications. If you use your insurance, you will not pay more than your copay (which is often $0), and get at-home home delivery and messaging with doctors at no additional cost. We will confirm coverage through our partner pharmacy and potential copays once we attempt to process your order.”

Alpha

“We're not able to accept insurance for medical fees or membership fees, but some pharmacies may accept your health insurance for medication.”

Hers

None, does not take insurance

Nurx

Includes aetna, Anthem BCBS, Cigna, and United Healthcare. Option to email to see if private plan is accepted

Pandia

Pandia Health accepts most insurances for medication. We accept insurances including but not limited to Aetna, BlueCross BlueShield, Cigna, FamilyPact, LA Care, United Healthcare & more! Insurances we do not accept at this time include Cal Optima, Care, Humana, Kaiser, Sunshine Health, StayWell or Tricare

The Lowdown

- Only an information hub

Provider	Insurance Accepted	Cost with insurance	Cost without insurance
Optum	New York: CareMount & ProHEALTH New Jersey: Riverside Connecticut: Riverside	“Starting as low as $10/month”	“Starting as low as $10/month”
Lemonaid	None, does not take insurance	--	$15/pack, $25 consultation
TwentyEight	“Yes, we accept most insurance policies (including Medicaid) to cover your medications. If you use your insurance, you will not pay more than your copay (which is often $0), and get at-home home delivery and messaging with doctors at no additional cost. We will confirm coverage through our partner pharmacy and potential copays once we attempt to process your order.”	$0 copay	$18/pack starting; prices for patch, ring, and shot start at $300/month, $130/month, and $126/3 months
Alpha	“We're not able to accept insurance for medical fees or membership fees, but some pharmacies may accept your health insurance for medication.”	---	Prices range from $15/pack to $190/pack; ring = $170, patch = $175/month, shot = $330/month, ring = $2,030
Hers	None, does not take insurance	---	$20 for medication, $10 for Hers membership, $5 first time fee
Nurx	Includes aetna, Anthem BCBS, Cigna, and United Healthcare. Option to email customer service to	Co-pay as low as $0	$15/pack, $18 consultation fee determine if private plan is accepted.

Pandia	“Pandia Health accepts most insurances for medication. We accept insurances including but not limited to Aetna, BlueCross BlueShield, Cigna, FamilyPact, LA Care, United Healthcare & more! Insurances we do not accept at this time include Cal Optima, Care, Humana, Kaiser, Sunshine Health, StayWell or Tricare.”	Co-pay $0	As low as $15/pack
The Lowdown	Only an information hub provided.	Unclear from site	Unclear from site

Insurance Coverage & Information:

Optum: 2 – Limited info on insurance coverage, still lists price as starting at $10 per month with insurance (co-pay should be zero)

Lemonaid: 1 – Does not take insurance.

Pandia: 4 – Accepts most insurance, lists plans not covered. Co-pay listed as 0.

TwentyEight: 5 – Accepts most insurance, lists plans covered, offers customer service option to confirm

Alpha: 1 – Does not take insurance.

Hers: 1 – Does not take insurance.

Nurx: 4 – Moderate info as to what plans are covered, but offers customer service option.

The Lowdown: 1 – unclear on coverage.

Cost & Transparency:

Optum: 1 – Little info on actual cost of products.

Lemonaid: 1 Little info on actual cost of products. Charges consultation fee and/or membership.

Pandia: 2 – Little info on actual cost of products.

TwentyEight: 4 – Clear on what products cost certain amounts. charges consultation fee/membership.

Alpha: 4 – Clear on what products cost certain amounts, but with no insurance option to offset cost, some methods are extremely expensive.

Hers: 4 – Clear on product price, but charges several fees

Nurx: 4– Clear on product price, but charges several fees.

The Lowdown: 1 – unclear on all fronts.